WEEK'S BUSINESS RECORD BREAKER

Clearings Go Beyond Million Mark This Time

Aside from Week of Stone & Webster Deal This One Has Beaten Previous Weeks.

HEAVY TOBACCO MOVEMENTS.

Clearings this week $1,040,247
Same week last year 786,570
Increase 253,677

This week's bank clearings go into the millions, and only one or two times before have they reached so many figures. The cause of this increase is the heavy movement in tobacco the last week. The corresponding week of last year was also a boomer. Taking an average day the increase would go higher.

Trade has been good the past week and the merchants are in a good humor. An early Easter will also help to swell the coffers of the local merchants. Today has been wet and damp but trade among the retail stores is good. Next week is par car day and the payroll, $118,000 of the Illinois Central railroad, will help business.

When the bank clearings toed the million mark before, it was chiefly due to some big deal being consummated. When the Stone & Webster people bought the traction company the clearings went high, but compared with weeks without any such extraordinary deals, this week is a record breaker.

HICKMAN ARCH.

Daughters of Confederacy Make Movement State Wide.

Mrs. Roy McKinney, of Paducah, (nee May Faris, of Hickman) state president of the United Daughters of Confederacy, was in town this week, and appeared before the city council, informed the members of that body that the Daughters of the Confederacy would in the near future erect over the gates at the city cemetery a memorial arch. She stated that the piece of work would be sculptured in Italy, by an ex-Confederate, and as the sculptor stated, would be the handsomest piece of work in the United States. The piece of work would ordinarily cost about $50,000, but the sculptor has agreed to do the work merely for the cost of the material which goes into it. There will be a grand arch in the center of the driveway into the cemetery, through which a funeral car, with driver mounted, can drive, and on either side of the grand arch will be smaller arch for pedestrians. Over the grand arch will be sculptured the names of the Confederate soldiers who are buried in the cemetery. She proposed to the city council that they build the foundation for the archway, and to this they readily agreed. This will be something nice, and something which we can boast of. The work, Mrs. McKinney states, will be done within the next year. — Hickman Courier.

San Francisco, March 9.—Abraham Ruef, the local political leader, who for three days has been in hiding to evade an order of arrest issued by Superior Judge Dunn, was taken in custody tonight at the Trocadero a secluded suburban resort near the ocean beach. The arrest was made by William J. Biggy, elisor of Dunn's court, and Detective Burns, who is aiding Assistant District Attorney Heney in the work of prosecuting the alleged municipal "grafters."

Redwine, of the Thirty-second judicial district stated that he will not preside in the Hargis cases, which Special Judge William Carnes has sent to Elliott on a change of venue from Breathitt. Judge Redwine is indignant that the Hargis cases should be sent to that county.

Mr. G. W. Katterjohn went to Princeton, where he has the contract for building the new depot.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

"ELIJAH II" DIES IN HIS ZION CITY

John Alexander Dowie Passes Away in Peace

No One in His Bed Chamber But Jungle Guard, Whom He Brought From Africa With Him.

HAS BEEN IN FAILING HEALTH

Chicago, March 9.—John Alexander Dowie, erstwhile overseer of the Christian Catholic church, died at 8 o'clock this morning at Zion City, which he founded on the north shore of Lake Michigan. His passing away was not entirely unexpected. The aged leader of the Zion sect had been in a state of dissolution for months. Beaten in later years for control of the great properties he originated, the prophet failed in health. Seized with a fainting spell at midnight he became delirious. He thought he was holding religious services and died apparently without pain.

The closing hours of Dowie's life were marked by the bitterness of defeat and humiliation. The sole comforter in his sick room was a black guard he brought from the tropics. His wife and son are at Muskegon, Mich. Shunned by his former almost idolatrous followers and isolated from those he trusted, the old man clung weakly to the friendship of his small band of believers.

MISTRIAL FOR STEVE ADAMS

Wallace Ida., March 9.—The jury in the trial of Steve Adams for the murder of Fred Tyler, after being in deliberation since 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon today at 7:10 o'clock announced through Foreman George Eilers that it was impossible to agree upon a verdict, and was discharged by Judge Woods.

The jury for many hours stood at seven for conviction and five for acquittal, and it was only on the last ballot that the jurors stood evenly divided, six for conviction and six for acquittal.

Judge Woods thanked the jury for its patience and diligence in service, after the foreman declared positively that it was impossible to reach a verdict, and declared them discharged.

This means that the case must be tried again.

FIGHT IN MAIDEN ALLEY WITH KNIFE AND A CLUB

This afternoon about 2 o'clock Homer Williams and Ike Bowland, both colored engaged in a fight in Maiden alley between Kentucky avenue and Broadway. It is said the trouble arose over Bowland crushing Williams' derby. Bowland, it is alleged, drew a knife and made several flourishes at Williams. Williams secured a club and dealt several sound blows on Bowland's head. Patrolmen Jones and Cross made the arrest.

In Arkansas Cyclone.

The Rev. and Mrs. John W. Sykes, of Hope, Ark., had a narrow escape in the terrible cyclone that recently swept over Washington, Ark. Mr. Sykes was holding a Lenten service in Washington, which is one of his charges, and concluded just before the storm commenced. Had he preached several minutes longer the rain would have detained them at the church, which in a short time was in splinters. Several people were killed just across the street from the church where Mr. and Mrs. Sykes were stopping had the windows and doors blown out, but no one was injured. The day had been oppressively warm before the cyclone.

Mrs. Sykes was formerly Miss Jessie Nash, a popular Paducah girl, and Mr. Sykes was the rector of Grace Episcopal church here for several years.

Fireman Injured on Train.

E. H. Rudolph, of Paducah, a fireman on a freight train, was injured on the head last night between Boaz and Mayfield. He was shoveling coal in the engine when, by going around a sharp curve, he came in contact with the swinging door of the engine causing his head to get cut and bruised. It happened about 9 o'clock. Drs. Dismukes, the local railroad surgeons, were summoned to dress the wounds and the young man was sent back to Paducah.—Mayfield Messenger.

—Donahue in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MRS. WM. MALONE IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mr. Malone left this afternoon for that place to be at her bedside. She has la grippe. Mrs. Malone is known on the stage as Miss Edna Farrell, and is an accomplished actress, and is quite popular. Mrs. Malone is playing the leading part in Hanlon's "Fantasma" this season.

MUST CLEAN THE STREETS WITHIN NEXT THREE DAYS.

Following the directions of the board of public works, Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott had the police department serve notice on Thomas Bridges, the sewer contractor, to clean up accumulation of dirt on Twelfth street between Tennessee and Norton streets, and on Jackson street between Tenth and Thirteenth streets. Three days is given in which to do the cleaning or the city will do it and charge it to the contractor.

MARKET LIVELIER THAN FOR WEEKS

The market was well stocked this morning with fruits and vegetables. Almost all the early vegetables were there and the people were buying, too. For the past two weeks there has been a lull, but this morning the people were down with their baskets. Apples, potatoes and such products are getting scarce and the prices are raising accordingly. Jonquils could be had at two dozen for 15 cents, and potted plants were represented by the pansies, which sold at 10 cents a pot. Eggs dropped from 20 cents to 15 cents a dozen, and celery sold at three large bunches for 25 cents. The weather had some effect on the people but many braved the rain to replenish their stores for Sunday.

Woman's Rights On Shelf.

London March 9.—The bill to extend the right of suffrage to women was defeated in the house of commons today, where it was talked to death without coming to a vote. The supporters of the bill made a determined attempt to secure a vote, but the speaker declined to accept a motion of closure, and the sitting of the house was closed automatically at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The bill is thus killed for the present session.

Compromise With Creditors.

By a compromise with his creditors, J. R. Roberts will pay 30 cents on the dollar and the bankruptcy proceeding dropped. Judge Bagby will forward the papers in the case to Judge Walter Evans for approval. An order of sale of property in the bankrupt case of Max J. Michelson has been made by Judge Bagby the sale to be held March 18.

Cow Owner Discharged.

Lycurgus Rise arrested a cow belonging to Dock Hays, which was loose on the streets. It was shown that the cow broke out and usually was kept up. The warrant was dismissed.

OLD IRON FURNACE WILL BE SHIPPED

After standing idle a dozen years the old iron furnace property on South Third street will be dismantled immediately and shipped away. The Princess Iron company, of Virginia, has purchased the plant from the Lackland estate of St. Louis.

READY FOR ENUMERATORS TO START OUT NEXT MONTH

S. J. Billington, superintendent of the county schools, is preparing the blank form to be used by the enumerators when they take the school census in the county. The census will be taken in April and the chairman of each district is constituted the enumerator in his district. A slight increase probably will be shown this year. The county schools have an enrollment a little larger than the city enrollment.

"Coqueroach Brown."

Chicago, March 9.—Brown being the popular color of the season, Mme. Greenberg, it developed at last night's meeting of the National Milliners' Association, has given to the world a new shade with a novel name. It is "coqueroach," and is said by experts to be the hue of the adolescent cockroach or domestic water bug, familiar in the consommé of commerce.

PROGRESS OF SEWER WORK IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER

Good progress is being made by the contractors on sewer district number two. The hollow has been crossed and the workers are now excavating on South Twelfth street, within 50 feet of Broadway. One cave-in occurred this morning, but the contractors have a force of men bracing the sides and no further trouble from this source is expected unless a big rain falls.

SURPRISE LAID FOR EVELYN THAW

New York, March 9.—District Attorney Jerome is expected to spring some surprises in rebuttal in the Thaw trial. One of the most important points he will try to prove that Stanford White was not near his studio the night Evelyn Thaw says she was wronged by him. This date can be fixed by Photographer Eichmeyer, who took her picture, as Evelyn testified she posed for him the day preceding.

COME TO TOWN WITH ROLL AND DROPPED A HUNDRED.

R. C. Colley, a young country boy from the Farmington section of Graves county, lost $100 while in a house at Ninth and Washington streets last night. He alleges that Allie Morton, a negro woman, stole the money out of his pocket. After the evidence was heard this morning Judge Cross held the Morton woman to the April session of the grand jury on the charge of grand larceny. Her bail was fixed at $300.

Papers were left at his home.

Wasp At Vicksburg.

The Vicksburg, Miss., Herald says: The gunboat Wasp of the United States navy arrived at the mouth of the Yazoo canal yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The Wasp did not come up the canal as she is not scheduled for a stop at Vicksburg until she comes down the river again. She took on coal soon after her arrival and will continue her trip up the river at about 6 o'clock this morning. The Wasp is on a recruiting cruise. The Wasp is under the command of Capt. J. S. Croghan. Her first officer is J. Caney, and her surgeon W. H. Rennie. Her pilot is Joseph Gibbons. She has a crew of about 36 officers and men.

Wants Divorce.

PROF. CARNAGEY VISITS PADUCAH

Delighted to Get Back to the Banks of Ohio River

Something of Preparation and Career of Next Superintendent of City Schools.

WILL RETURN HERE IN JUNE.

Prof. John Albert Carnagey, of Noblesville, Ind., who has been elected superintendent of the Paducah public schools to succeed Supt. C. M. Lieb, arrived in Paducah this morning to spend the day. He will return to Noblesville, Ind., tomorrow.

Prof. Carnagey's school closes two weeks earlier than the Paducah schools and he will spend the last two weeks of the school term here as the official guest of Superintendent Lieb, studying the school situation and acquainting himself with the system. Later in the summer he will bring his family here to reside. His family consists of his wife and daughter, Miss Margaret, 15 years old, and son, Jack, 8 years old.

"It is like returning home to get back to the Ohio river," said Prof. Carnagey this morning. He was born on the Ohio near Pittsburg.

Prof. Carnagey is a graduate of Hanover college, Ind., of the class of '81, of which he was valedictorian, the honor man. He did post-graduate work in history and received his degree of A. B. He also did post-graduate work at Chicago and Minnesota. He has done professional and pedagogical work for four summers at Chautauqua, N. Y.

Although Prof. Carnagey is a Methodist, he is a trustee of Hanover college, a Presbyterian institution.

Prof. Carnagey's experience has been profound. He was seven years principal of the High school at Madison, Ind., 12 years superintendent of the city schools at Columbus, Ind., and four years superintendent of the city schools at Noblesville, Ind. His interest in educational matters is evidenced by the fact that he is a charter member of the Indiana association of city superintendents and president in 1896; he was chairman of the executive committee of the State Teachers' association in 1894; he was first president of the Southern Indiana Superintendents' club; treasurer of the Southern Indiana Teachers' association since 1895, and was honored with a place on the program of the National Superintendents' meeting in Chicago, 1900.

"When I come here in June, I shall have, besides an opportunity to acquaint myself with the school system in operation, an opportunity to secure a house. I shall have no object in view here but the best interests of the schools and the coming generation, studying in those schools. I shall come here free to do what I think is best for the schools and the pupils. Had Professor Lieb sought another year, or had Professor Payne desired to succeed his superintendent, I should not have applied for the position. In fact, I declined to apply at another city on that account."

Prof. Carnagey makes a pleasant impression on those he meets, and speaks with earnestness and enthusiasm about his life work.

SAVES COAL FLAT.

Harry Blackwell Does Such Work on the River.

But for the watchful eyes of Harry Blackwell, night river manager of the West Kentucky Coal company, a flat barge loaded with 22,500 bushels of coal would have been lost at the wharfbat at 4 o'clock this morning. The coal flat was at the head of the wharfbat to coal the Georgia Lee when Blackwell discovered that it was listing heavily to one side. It was evident that a little more water in it would turn the flat over. He ran back to the company's towboat, the Fannie Wallace, and roused the captain and engineer. Doing the stoking himself they got the towboat to the coal flat in time to pump the water out before the coal was spilled into the river.

In Juvenile Court.

Isaac Jackson, a 12-year-old colored boy, was arrested for stealing brasses from J. E. Coulson's plumbing shop. He was transferred to the juvenile court on the charge of petty larceny.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURE BLOOD

A great many people have an idea that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the ulcer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scabs over and is soon permanently healed. THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Tonight—The Gertrude Ewing Company in “A Family Muddle.” Monday night—Donnelly & Hatfield “Minstrels.”

Tuesday night and balance of week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday—“The Mack-Leone” Company.

Donnelly & Hatfield Monday Night.

For years the Al G. Field minstrel performances have been recognized as peers of them all. The very name of Al G. Field in connection with a minstrel was like magic upon the people throughout the country, and the friends of that gentleman one year ago proclaimed that he had exhausted all minstrel features on earth. Few ever expected to see anything in that line which would even make a comparison—he had reached the acme—that was the popular verdict. The advent of the Donnelly & Hatfield minstrels, has already changed the tide, that is so far as Pensacola is concerned at least, says a Pensacola paper. A packed house witnessed last night's performance and after it was all over, this new aggregation, which has sprung up in a single season snatched the laurels, claiming them as their own.

Mack-Leone Engagement.

The Mack-Leone company, which opens an engagement here Tuesday night for the balance of the week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Tuesday night ladies will be admitted free under the usual conditions. The opening bill will be the greatest of all problem plays entitled “Sowing the Wind.” The Evansville Courier has the following to say of the company.

The Leone-Mack Stock company improves with acquaintance. The players fit admirably into their roles and throw themselves so heartily into the various characters that there is none of the sameness incidental to repertoire companies. The play last evening was “Madam Satan.”

Miss Leone appeared as the madam the woman with the past, and a word picture cannot convey the warmth and abandon she threw into certain scenes. Maude Leone showed that she was mistress of her art.

Willard Mack had a part diametrically opposed to hers, itself sufficient to insure the success of the part.

BRIDGE AT JOPPA IS NOW ASSURED

C. & E. I. and M. J. & K. C. Agree on Plan

Tap Illinois Coal Fields and Make a New Short Route From Chicago to New Orleans.

OPENS UP NEW TERRITORY.

St. Louis, March 9.—The officers of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and the committee on management of the Mobile, Jackson & Kansas City, now have more definite plans for a new short route from St. Louis, Chicago & Memphis to New Orleans and Mobile. The recommendations have been considered officially, and there is every prospect that they will be approved with only one exception.

The original intention was to build three extensions, one from St. Louis to a point in Williamson county, Illinois; another from Joppla, Ill., to Middleton, Tenn., and a third from Laurel, Miss., to New Orleans. The officials have practically decided, however, not to build the extension from St. Louis to Williamson county now, but to utilize the new route for St. Louis and Southern traffic by operating trains from St. Louis over the Frisco tracks to Thebes, Ill., and the Illinois tracks from Thebes to Joppla.

The proposition before the management of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois is to use the Chicago & Eastern Illinois tracks from Chicago to Joppla, Ill., on the Ohio river, and the Frisco tracks from St. Louis to Thebes, and the Eastern Illinois tracks from Thebes to Joppla.

The Extension South. From Joppla an extension, to connect the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and the Mobile, Jackson & Kansas City, will be constructed to Middleton, Tenn., via Jackson, Tenn. This one extension, about 110 miles in length, will form a direct route from St. Louis and Chicago to Memphis and Mobile. Either the tracks of the New Orleans & Northeastern will be used from Laurel, Miss., to New Orleans, or an extension will be built from Laurel to New Orleans.

It is reported on reliable authority that these plans will almost surely be approved. The distance from St. Louis to New Orleans would be about 680 miles and to Mobile 660 miles, and the distance from Chicago to New Orleans 860 miles, and to Mobile 840 miles.

The extension between Joppla and Middleton, Tenn., to connect up the Chicago & Eastern Illinois and the Mobile-Jackson, will open up to St. Louis new territory in Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Old Gun Could Shoot.

Lexington, Ky., March 9.—A letter received by Leander Bowling, of this city, from his former home at Crawford, Laurel county, tells of a peculiar accident in Laurel, by which Leander Bailey, a boy ten years old, was killed by his cousin, Sidney Bailey, who is but eight years old. Several days ago the father of Leander Bailey, while working in a field, plowed up an old pistol, of the cap and ball pattern, such as was used during the war, and which evidently had been buried for many years. The wooden handle of the weapon had rotted off, the barrel was covered with rust, and on the nipple where the charge is ignited, embedded in the rust and dirt, were the remains of a brass percussion cap.

The pistol was picked up and carried to the Bailey home, where after a brief examination it was thrown into the yard as worthless. A few hours later the two boys, while playing in the yard, were attracted by the old weapon. While they were bending over looking at it the younger child began hammering it with a stone, when the dilapidated firearm was suddenly discharged, the bullet entering the abdomen of Leander Bailey, taking an upward course and killing him instantly. The families of both boys are prostrated with grief.

He Wouldn't Dec.

To illustrate the vicissitudes of those who die rich, Andrew Carnegie told at a dinner in New York an amusing Scotch story. “George Gordon, a rich old Scot,” he said, “was taken seriously ill and decided that he had better draw up his will at once. Accordingly the testament was then and there written out at his dictation, read to him, and placed in his lap for his signature. The old man took the pen, wrote ‘George Gordon,’ and then sank back exhausted. The heir hastily raised him again. ‘D. uncle, d. he prompted. ‘Deet’ growled the old man: ‘I’ll dee when I’m ready, ye avareicious wretch.’—Exchange.

HOME-MADE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from any good pharmacy.

This prescription, states a well-known authority, forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism. Relief is felt from the first few doses.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it you want it badly.

CALL OF TEACHERS.

Kentucky Educational Association's Plans.

The Kentucky Educational association in the past has not accomplished what it should have accomplished. It has not been the power for good that it should have been. In many states of the Union it is a great moving power and its work and influence are felt in every section of the state. Its demands upon the state legislature are carefully considered and as a rule enacted into law. All these things can and should be accomplished by the Kentucky Educational association. Make it a business affair, put the proper spirit into it and it will give an impetus to the educational life of the state, the like of which has never been known.

Suppose we can have an attendance of 2,000 teachers. Let them come to think and to work. Let them come for business and for the welfare and future happiness of the youth of our state. The good results that would come from such a meeting are without limitation. On the other hand, suppose we have only a few teachers from one-fourth of the counties of the state. What can we hope to accomplish? What could we expect from the legislators? Absolutely nothing.

They would simply look at the teaching force of the state as an aimless, unorganized class without purpose and caring little whether or not we progress or retrograde. If the county and city superintendents will do their duty, we can have the teachers there. So let the superintendents begin organizing at once. Let the teacher know that the call has been made and it is his duty to go. Let him understand that it is a business proposition and that the investment will yield an enormous dividend. It would be well in this connection to say something of the reorganization of the Kentucky Educational association. The committee having this meeting in charge is working constantly, and the matter is now well under way. The general conduct of the reorganization is being done skillfully by Superintendents Rhoads, Mark and Crabbe, and by the time of the next meeting they will have a permanent membership made up of the most enthusiastic teachers in the state. The plan will be to follow that of the National Educational association. There will be a permanent membership and all persons engaged in any kind of educational work will be eligible. Full proceedings, including all addresses and the names of all members will be published in book form and these, with other pamphlets of information, will be sent regularly to all permanent members, whether or not they attend the meetings of the association.

In this way all may have the proceedings and addresses even when they find it impossible to attend the meetings. These documents will be valuable to any teacher, and no doubt hundreds of teachers who can not attend the association will become members in order to secure these valuable papers.

Within a few days the secretary will begin sending out circular matter explaining the nature in full of Land Wealth of New York City.

Few people realize the tremendous land wealth of New York City today. The total land valuations of the city by its recent census reached the enormous figure of $5,800,000,000; this is an increase of $400,000,000 in 1907, over 1906, and 1906 in turn, showed an increase of $480,000,000 over 1905. Within a decade, increase has been considerably over 100 per cent.

New York real estate is today valued at more than one-twentieth of the entire wealth of the United States. It is greater than the entire wealth of many states and even of many foreign countries. It is 25 per cent more than the entire wealth of Holland, Spain, Sweden and Norway; 50 per cent more than Switzerland, Denmark or Portugal; it is one-third that of Italy; one-fourth that of Austria-Hungary; one fifth that of many; one-seventh that of Germany; one eighth that of France; one tenth that of Great Britain and Ireland. It is indeed an imperial city in an empire state—Francis H. Sisson in Moody's Magazine for March.

VIOLETS IN HEAVEN.

For joy, when heaven's first violet
Awakens the Celestial Spring;
Or can it be that ye forget,
Enthralled by those transcendent

The sweet earth-passion of the

'Tis planted there for memory;

The Kalosophic club will meet on Friday morning at 10 o'clock with Miss Kathleen Whitefield, Kentucky Avenue and 7th streets. Current Topics will be presented by Miss Lillie Mae Winstead. The German drama will be discussed in two parts: I. "The Drama of Schiller—Mary Stuart," Miss Annie May Yelzer. II. Goethe—Life, Origin of the Faust Legend, Analysis and Ethical Teachings of Faust," Mrs. Vernon Blythe. There will be a general discussion of the play "Faust" by the club.

The Lenten Quiet.

The week has been marked by a Lenten quietude and the coming week has few announced events on the social calendar. It may be that St. Patrick's day will be honored by some social observance. Falling on Sunday it can be celebrated both "before and after" as it were; and it is generally a time of some pretty affairs. Mid-Lent is on March 19, when it is customary to relax the Lenten rigor, but Paducah does not do this on the formal scale of the large cities.

While Paducah is putting an extra tax on the brain this Lent and attending strictly to her literary club in other cities of Kentucky, from Louisville down, the roller skating rink is the thing. Skating parties have entirely superseded dancing and much of the entertaining is done at the rinks. It is presumed the healthfulness of the exercise prevents any Lenten ban upon it as a pastime. Just how Paducah has escaped the popular rink craze is a marvel, but it may come to us yet.

Honor Paid Kentuckians at Honolulu

Miss Laura Anderson of Paducah, who with Capt. and Mrs. Palmer Wheat, sailed on February 5 on the U. S. army transport "Logan" from San Francisco for Manila, P. I., spent February 14th and 15th at Honolulu. The party was beautifully entertained while there by the army people with an elaborate dinner party and two balls at the Seaside and Moana Hotels on Honolulu's world-famous Waikiki beach. Clustered here are the beach homes of Queen Liliuokalani, Robert Louis Stevenson, Charles Warren Stoddard and other notables. The stay at Honolulu was a wonderful panorama, enrapturing the eye by the wealth of flowers and foliage of the "World's Sunshine Belt." It was hard for the Kentuckians to realize it was mid-February as it is always June in "Happy Hawaii." The next stop of the party was to be at Gwam.

Miss Blanche Hills in Michigan. Miss Leone Kesell, of Pontiac, Mich., who was the guest of Miss Blanche Hills in Paducah last winter, entertained a week-end house-party in honor of Miss Hills at her home last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Beside the guest of honor and the hostess, the party included: Misses Jacques Eggleston of Inlay City, and Ruth Moore, of Pontiac; Messrs. Wisner Williams, Tom White and Roy Wyant, of Ann Arbor, and Harry Maxwell, of Troy.

Miss Hills will leave Pontiac for a return visit to Detroit today and will be the guest there of Miss Charlotte Davies, 38 Woodward Terrace. She has been the recipient of most charming social attention in Pontiac and Detroit during her visits in both places. A round of dinner parties, after-theater suppers, dances, and auto-parties have been given in her honor by her hostesses and many of the young men she met at the Ann Arbor "J Hop", 38 Woodward Terrace, is the most beautiful of the residence portions for which Detroit is famed.

Liebling Recital For Paducah.

The Crescendo club at its meeting on Thursday afternoon at the studio of Miss Virginia Newell on North 7th street, decided to have a Liebling recital at the Kentucky theater the last week of May, if Emil Liebling, the famous pianist and composer can come from Chicago at that time. In doing this the Crescendo club will certainly deserve the hearty co-operation of all music lovers of Paducah, for to have Liebling visit our city will be a rare treat. The club is a small one, composed of the music pupils of Miss Newell, and has shown much spirit and courage, as well as faith in Paducah, in attempting so great a thing. Liebling stands today at the head of the modern composers, and recently when the Boston Symphony Concert was playing in Chicago, a Liebling recital on the same even-

Elegant Reception in Honor of Bride.

A notably handsome entertainment of the week was the reception given on Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, by Mrs. Reuben Loeb at her home on Broadway, introducing her son's bride, Mrs. Sydney H. Loeb, a handsome and attractive Oklahoma City girl. The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of Southern smilax and roses and carnations in a color-motif of pink and white. The ices and cakes of the pretty two-course luncheon were in the pink and white effect.

Delightful fruit punch was served during the afternoon by Miss Elizabeth Rothschild of St. Louis and Miss Mamie Dreyfus. Assisting Mrs. Loeb and Mrs. Sydney Loeb in receiving the guests were: Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. Adolph Weil, Mrs. E. Fels, Mrs. Abe Livingston, Mrs. Herman Friedman, Mrs. Louis Rubel; Misses Carrie Weil of Cleveland, Ohio; Stella Levy of New Orleans, Pearl Blum of Nashville, Tenn. The reception gowns were especially handsome and striking. About 100 guests called during the afternoon.

Chess, Checker and Whist Club.

The Chess, Checker and Whist club held its annual election of officers on Monday evening in the club rooms at Broadway and 6th streets. The present officers were all re-elected as follows: Dr. J. Q. Taylor, president; Charles W. Thompson, vice president; Frank B. May, secretary; Nolan Van Culin, treasurer.

The club is one of the most successful in the city. It was organized in 1900 and has now 190 members with a large waiting list. The club quarters are handsomely fitted and convenient in every detail for comfort and pleasure. Dr. J. Q. Taylor has been the president since the organization of the club and has been an important factor in its successful growth and sterling features.

Delphic Club's New Officers and Work

The Delphic club met on Tuesday morning at the Carnegie library. As the first Tuesday in March is the time set in the constitution and by-laws for the election of officers and for determining the work of the ensuing year, the literary program for the day was omitted.

"Egypt" was selected as the country for next year's study and Mrs. George Flournoy, Mrs. Edmund M. Post and Mrs. Elbridge Palmer were appointed a committee to arrange the Year Book for 1907-1908. Until the present year the club has had the program outlined away from home but the study of Spain was so cleverly mapped out by Mrs. Louis M. Rieke and Mrs. Frank Parham that the club awakened to the realization of the motto "know thyself" and hereafter will do its own program work. With Egypt's fabulous wealth of material to draw upon the ensuing year will be most attractively presented by the competent committee in charge.

The following officers were elected for the year beginning October 3, 1907: Mrs. Mildred Fowler Davis, president; Mrs. George Clayton Wallace, vice president; Miss Helen Bullitt Lowry, secretary and treasurer. The present officers who have so ably guided the club for two years were not eligible to re-election, having served the full time, and will re-ire April 30. Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips, president; Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, vice president; Mrs. Frank L. Scott, secretary and treasurer.

Informal Afternoon Euchre.

Mrs. I. Young of West Jefferson street was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends on Tuesday afternoon. Euchre was played and the prizes were captured by Mrs. R. Endress, Mrs. William Hummel, Mrs. Young served an impromptu 3-course luncheon in a most attractive setting of spring jonquills. Yellow was the color-scheme. Those present were: Mrs. E. W. Bockmon, Mrs. J. Friant, Mrs. J. W. Sherrill, Mrs. R. Endress, Mrs. William Hummel, Mrs. Georgia Beyer, Mrs. William Katterjohn, Mrs. G. Jacob, Mrs. John Rock, Mrs. William Merkle, Mrs. I. Young, Miss Pauline Roth.

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club had a delightful Sante-Seans and Berlioz afternoon on Wednesday at the Parish House of Grace church. The leaders were Mrs. David G. Murrell and Miss Virginia Newell. The room was prettily decorated with flowers and carnations were given as souvenirs. The program was attractively presented by: Mrs. David Flournoy, Mrs. D. G. Murrell, Misses Mamie Dryfuss, Courtie and Letha Puryear, Aline Bagby, Caroline Ham, Maude Cairnes, Ella Wilhelm, Mary Boudurant and Mr. Robert D. MacMillen.

U. D. C. Chapter.

Miss Adine Morton was the hostess of the Paducah Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Broadway. It was the regular meeting for March. After the routine business an attractive musical and literary program was enjoyed. Mrs. Luke Russell gave a paper on "The Navy of the Confederacy." Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis told of "Admiral Raphael Semmes." Miss Julia Scott and Mrs. Emmett Bagby sang and Miss Mary Scott gave a piano number. Tea and cake were served.

Mrs. Luke Russell, Mrs. William J. Gilbert and Miss Adine Morton were appointed a committee to express the U. D. C. resolutions of sorrow on the death and loss to the chapter of Mrs. Bertie Fowler Campbell, a beloved member and interested worker.

Kalosophic Club.

The Kalosophic club met on Friday morning with Miss Kathleen Whitefield, Kentucky avenue and 7th street. The French dramatists, Sardou and Rostand were discussed by Misses Frances Wallace and Kathleen Whitefield. L'Aiglon was read by the club. Mrs. David Flournoy presented "Current Topics."

Gentlemen: Last November I was taken with a severe cold and cough. I used a bottle of standard expectorant and was not benefited in the least. I then tried another standard cough cure, but with no better results than with the expectorant. I was then recommended by a druggist at Covington, La., to try Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and after using one 25c bottle I was completely cured. This testimonial was unsolicited, but you are at liberty to use it in any way you may choose. In my opinion, you have by far the best cough medicine on the market. Yours truly,

Over 4,000,000 bottles were sold during the year 1904, on an absolute guarantee. Out of this vast number of sales money was refunded on only six bottles. This proportion—4 out of 4,000,000—is so exceedingly small that it hardly makes a ripple in the solid phalanx of satisfied customers. This is the unprecedented record of the most wonderful cough medicine on the market.

Daily Thought.

The heart is dead when the smile of a child cannot stir its depths.

POLITICS AND SCHOOL POLITICS.

It is an honor to be affiliated with such men as attended the Non-Partisan School League meeting and signed their names to the roster, and THE SUN cannot but commend the discretion of other papers, which are identified with the schemes that have undermined the school system, in not publishing the list of promoters of the movement. "It-timed and ill-advised" says one ill-wisher, which does not dare to say who are identified with the league. Such men as these have not been engaged much in ill-timed and ill-advised schemes; neither are they likely to be drawn away from the even tenor of their pursuits to prosecute an unprofitable fight, unless there is some tangible good to be accomplished. They are not men who meddle in politics for their own gain or the gratification of their friends. They are in earnest in this movement, for they are earnest men and have always been in earnest. They have not been misled into signing the papers. They are men who have not gained the position they hold commercially, in the church and in community life by signing documents, the import of which they do not understand.

These men have a purpose to perform, and it is the pleasure of THE SUN to aid them while rancor rages at the rising of the sun, and pusillanimity stands in the way at the going down thereof.

Why should these men take up a non-partisan fight at this time? "Politics no longer permeates the body of men in whose hands rests the destiny of Paducah schools," says the soft spoken advocate, whose fulminations against the school administration made possible the work of ruin and disorganization. We had expected just such argument as this from that very source. Politics to some people means Democrat on one side and Republican on the other; but to the men in office, who are going after the good things, it is give and take, and party names lose their significance in the presence of the loot.

The men who have joined the non-partisan movement want a ticket elected next fall on a platform as radically different from the one advanced by the incumbents as it is possible to make it. These trustees went into office pledged to give jobs to their friends, and they fought and promised and worked for the nomination and election to a board that offers not a penny reward for the effort. Individually there are a few good men on the board, but they are standing on a rotten plank.

They opposed the school superintendent and their leaders adopted the only weapons they knew how to handle, abuse, and his friends were not spared. The declaration was made, obviously enough for the benefit of the reporters, by the present secretary of the board in open meeting, that he knew something scandalous about a certain principal and a teacher. There never was a resolution introduced by him to investigate the case and to this good day nothing more has been said. But the publication of the slander has brought more than one teacher and principal into disrepute, and, oddly enough, some of those whose names are associated with the base slander are friends of the secretary. Thus does such mud fall on the just and the unjust alike. The pupils mooted the story about the corridors of the school buildings, and many an idle tale is being bandied around the city, that emanated from the same evil source.

Although there was a change in the school board this year, the leaders were members of the old board, and the secretary and others, who have been most active in fomenting discord, are personally responsible for the election of Superintendent Lieb. They elected him after they had the advantage of a year's observation of his work in the schools, and they secured his services, according to their own "mouthpiece," because he had done so much for the schools. Having chosen him, they scarcely allowed him time to undertake the contract they persuaded him to sign before they began a systematic campaign of abuse. If Superintendent Lieb was as incompetent as they said, then they must have spoken falsely when they praised him so highly at the time of his election. If he was so bad that it became necessary for them to humiliate him by every petty device within their means, and they were warranted in not only ignoring his recommendations, but in ascertaining his wishes and policy and then thwarting them; they should have secured his resignation. If he was not as incompetent as they said, and not as bad as they represented, then, of course, they have spoken falsely of him since.

But whatever they may have come to think of Superintendent Lieb, granting that they were mistaken in him, and that they are not men of sufficiently acute powers of observation nor of the mental calibre to judge whether the schools were being properly conducted, when they elected him, having elected him and being responsible for his position, as men, they should have supported him and his policy until the end of the year. If they chose inadvisedly, having the superintendent's record before them, the blame is on them, and a sense of the proprieties should have kept them mum. But they have treated him shamefully, and their conduct brands them as utterly devoid of those essential elements of character that make possible our civilized customs of social and commercial fair dealing between man and man.

These, remember, are not all the Democrats elected to the board by a party majority on a platform of "Paducah school jobs for Paducah people," but members of the old board, whose terms expire this year. So, no charge of partisan politics can be sustained against THE SUN in its attitude.

One member in particular has given out through the susceptible press false and malicious statements concerning the superintendent and his administration, and has verged closely onto the line of libel, so closely that a warning from THE SUN caused a cessation. One of these falsehoods was the declaration that the school board, of which he was a member, elected Superintendent Lieb from August 1, 1906, to August 1, 1907, and that afterward, when the contract was made out, Secretary Pitcher, or President Williamson, or Superintendent Lieb, made alterations, either before or after signing it, and either by mistake or something else, changing the date to September 1. The trustee went on to say that the successor to Superintendent Lieb should be elected for a year, commencing August 1, next, and the "mouthpiece" of this garrulous trustee in its report of the meeting asserted that the new superintendent was elected for a year, commencing August 1, when, as a matter of fact, not a word was said at the meeting concerning the beginning of the term of service.

THE SUN reproduced the report of the meeting at which Superintendent Lieb was elected, on March 6, 1906, as it appeared in the "mouthpiece" the next day, and that report said Superintendent Lieb was elected for a year, commencing September 1, 1906. The other papers of even date corroborated this, and the contract was not drawn up and signed until the following June.

Irregularities of the most informal character have marked the proceedings of the present board. Vacancies were filled before the board was organized; and it is believed by people acquainted with the law that members-elect voted before they were legally qualified. Dr. Walston resigned to escape any financial liability that might be incurred by individual members, on account of the invalidity of the acts of the board so irregularly constituted.

Men on the board, who would cooperate usefully under different conditions, lack the qualities of leadership, and would lack followers if they possessed these qualities.

These are some of the evils, which a change in the make-up of the board, calculated to unhorse the self-seeking dictators, will bring about; but deeper down toward the root of things there are other and more serious ills that affect the schools. There is incompetence and insubordination, and machinations against the administration that may give the new superintendent trouble the first time he undertakes to assert himself and decline to be made the tool of a board, which is swung by the under current of school politics. Ah, there's that word again—politics. Not Democrats and Republicans; but alliances and feuds; cabals and plots and counterplots among the school folks and their allies outside.

As to this latter fact, we are not alone. Let us hear from one who denounces anything THE SUN is first to advocate. In the course of an editorial it says:

So far as the late unpleasantness in the school is concerned, we had but little to say in this column, in fact our only comment was made in three or four lines about six months ago when we observed that the clouds hanging over the schools were identical with those a few years ago. Consequently the ultimate result was no surprise, and we are candid enough to say that if another row breaks out in the schools that the people will not only demand but insist that all parties connected with it be dismissed from the service. While we would not wish to see an injustice done any one, still the welfare of the schools comes first, and if quick work is made of those who clash, others will profit by it.

Now, here's a clue. The clouds were "identical with those of a few years ago." Therefore, Superintendent Lieb must not have been the cause of the recent trouble in the schools, for he was identified with no former disorders. It was some other cause. He, as we suspected, has been made the victim of a plot, or of conditions with the production of which he had nothing to do.

Here we have a man, who professes to know what is the trouble, and threatens that if it happens again as it has twice, he will "insist that all parties connected with it be dismissed from the service." His language denotes that there are people and not mere conditions at the bottom of the trouble, and the writer must believe it must be embarrassing for an editorial writer to be compelled to resort to the files of a rival paper to secure the facts on which to base his argument, especially when those facts are contained in a local news story. Perhaps, it was some such thought as this inspired the editor of the Democratic organ to pen: "Some would-be newspaper men don't know that the best papers keep their readers posted on all the events whether according to their notions or not." The same idea occurred to us when we observed editorial comment in the organ on the discharge of a saloon-keeper in the police court and the meeting of the non-partisan school league, neither of which figured to the extent of a line in its news columns.

Superintendent Lieb does not figure longer in school board affairs. He declined to stand for re-election and THE SUN while always supporting his administration, did not urge him to remain. He and his best friends felt that his usefulness here for the present is ended, not from any fault of his, but because of conditions over which he had no control. We stood by him, because we felt that discipline demanded that we support the school head. We shall show the same steadfast friendship toward his successor in all his efforts for the betterment of the Paducah public schools.

Temper is a good thing as long as you can keep it. The man, who loses his temper, is worse off than the man, who never had any.

CANDIDATE RE-ELECTION CITY CLERK

HENRY BAILEY.

To My Friends and Voters of the Democratic party:

As I am now busy making out tax bills for the year of 1907, which will confine me to my office until June 1, I take this method of putting my candidacy before the public for indorsement of my term, as my record will show that I am qualified and second to none as city clerk.

Yours very truly,

his own declaration that the trouble is over. Since Superintendent Lieb has severed his relations with the system, we have a right to presume that the writer anticipates no further difficulty on account of Superintendent Lieb.

We can not understand the attitude of a man, who says he knows what has caused the dissensions in the schools, but refuses to aid in eradicating it. Is he afraid to tell? Is he participates criminals and dares not turn state's evidence? Or, does he assume a false air of wisdom to intimidate some one, in order that he may accomplish his own private ends?

Such an one should prove useful in a movement dedicated to secure a remedy for evils existing in the school system, if he is honest and sincere.

This is the meaning of non-partisan as applied to this school movement; the pledge not to support the cause of any political party, person or scheme that in any way may injure the school system, interfere with proper discipline or hamper the administration. It means the selection of Paducah's best citizens, men to whom the acceptance of the position would mean a sacrifice, and men who could not be moved from the right by cajolery or intimidation. As to the affiliation of the candidates with any great national political party, the league is not concerning itself. This is not an attempt to divide the spoils between Democrats and Republicans, but to prevent their being any spoils.

It must be embarrassing for an editorial writer to be compelled to resort to the files of a rival paper to secure the facts on which to base his argument, especially when those facts are contained in a local news story. Perhaps, it was some such thought as this inspired the editor of the Democratic organ to pen: "Some would-be newspaper men don't know that the best papers keep their readers posted on all the events whether according to their notions or not." March is a Trying Month.

"Nor love, nor honor, wealth nor power,
Can give the heart a cheerful hour,
When health is lost. Be timely wise,
With health all taste of pleasure flies."

March is conceded by local physicians to be the worst month in the year in Paducah, in the point of the extent of sickness. The quick changes in the temperature, warm one day, chilly, with penetrating winds the next affect the physical condition probably more than any season of the year.

The only safeguard therefore is to get yourself in good condition. The liver, the blood, the kidneys, the skin should be in first class order or you can not stand the trying month. Osteopathy, quickly naturally restore any disarrangement to any of these essentials of good health. The torpid liver, the disordered kidneys, the poor blood supply or circulation readily yield to its health giving methods.

The treatment is simplicity itself, sane, rational, without the use of harmful drugs. It cures by scientific manipulation to restore the normal functions to each organ. It recognizes, appreciates and uses proper diet, air, water, exercise and other natural hygienic measures, too.

A trite saying is "Seeing is believing," so I shall be pleased to refer you, if you are interested, to any number of people you know well who can attest to the virtues of the treatment in liver, stomach, bowels, rheumatic, asthma, malaria, neuralgia and nervous condition.

Call me at 1407 or call at my office, 516 Broadway, at any time between 9 and 12 a. m. or 2 and 5 p. m. Dr. G. B. Froage.

$200 POLICY IN FORCE 3 MONTHS

Other companies would have paid only $100. The COMMONWEALTH is the only company that pays its Industrial Policies PROMPTLY and IN FULL—no matter if insured dies within one year, one week or one day after policy is issued. Gentlemen:—

I received today through your agent, Mr. J. D. Elkins, check for $200.00 in full settlement of claim I had against your Company under policy No. 26909, on account of the death of my wife, Mrs. Bettie T. Laird, who died Feb. 17th.

Although this policy was only issued on Nov. 19th, about three months, your Company paid me in full $200.00, whereas any other company doing an industrial business would have paid me only one-half or $100.00, as your policies are placed in full immediate benefit from the date of issue, a provision which should be considered by all those desiring industrial insurance.

Thanking you for your kindness and promptness in settling this claim and assuring you that whenever I can say a good word in behalf of the Commonwealth I shall certainly do so.

Very truly yours,

(Signed,) JOHN A. LAIRD,

The Telephone Voice.

E. H. Hall, Vice President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, says the Southern accent is rapidly disappearing. There are many causes, he says. The Southern travels more and uses the language of commerce today, whereas twenty years ago he used the language of literature. But above all looms the fact that the telephone is used so much more generally and so frequently. The use of the telephone, little as it is, is conducive to brevity of speech. It also is bringing all normal voices to a sameness of pitch and engraving a similarity in enunciation. In fact, the telephone is gradually changing the voices of the nation.

What He Was.

John Mitchell was talking to a reporter about the wide interest that the world now takes in socialism and the labor question, says the Minneapolis Journal.

"Socialism and what it stands for,"
he said, "has become a complex
science like astronomy."

"There was a labor meeting in session behind closed doors the other day, and a friend of mine tried to get into it."

"What are you?" the doorkeeper asked sternly. "Positionist, communist, socialist, Marxist, solutionist, Sinclairist or collectionist?"

"I faltered my bewildered friend—'why I am a machinist.'"

A Man Who Suffered in the White House.

Ida M. Tarbell, writing of "The Tariff in Our Times" in the American Magazine, presents many interesting pictures of the great political and business generals who figure in her narrative. Here is a photograph about Andrew Johnson:

"Certainly Johnson suffered throughout his four years as President as few people at the time realized. One of his secretaries once said that in the two years he was with him in the White House he never saw him smile but once. Ill himself, his beloved wife a bed-ridden invalid,
unfitted for companionship, suspicious of his associates, narrow in mind, bitter and resentful in heart, there was little reason indeed why Andrew Johnson should smile. Yet unquestionably he got a grim pleasure from his vetoes, even out of his impeachment trial. He believed he would be convicted, and his secretary told of the satisfaction he got from the idea that his persecutors would all come to bad ends. He learned Addison's Cato by heart and went about the White House rooms delivering it. He studied the trial of Charles I. of England, and ordered the names of those who signed the death warrant and the terrible ends to which they all came tabulated.
His secretary says he believes Johnson was not a little disappointed when he was acquitted. It took from him the bitterest of the many bitter cups he incessantly chewed."

St. Petersburg, March 9.—Emperor Nicholas today announced himself as "thoroughly satisfied" with the pro-

He also declared that he and his ministers are inspired by the best feelings toward parliament and hoped that its work, together with the legislative projects the ministers had prepared, would be fruitful of benefit to Russia.

HERBERT WALLERSTEIN'S

New Song Scores a Hit at The Kentucky Last Night.

The McNutt Twins of the Gertrude Ewing company, now playing at The Kentucky, scored a tremendous hit last night in Herbert L. Wallerstein's latest song success "Woogie." The six curtain calls last night give ample evidence that the song "caught on." By special request, it will be interpolated again this evening at the performance of "A Family Muddle."

This is but one of a series of five new songs recently issued by Mr.
Wallerstein and two of them have proven winning features in "The Vanderbilt Cup."

New Yorkers "Gawking" at Weddings
William Allen White, in the American Magazine for January, writes of New York City and Emporia, (the Kansas town in which he edits a newspaper). Of New Yorkers at weddings he says:

"Here is another thing that we can not understand in Emporia and that is the attitude New Yorkers take toward weddings in what is known as society. Our Gazette reporter says that when he was in New York he saw a big crowd gawking in front of a church; policemen had to fight the women back to keep them off the side-lines; and he found that these women—well-dress—women, perfectly proper women, so far as he could see—and he has done 'society' on the Gazette for three years, and ought to know—women, he says, who looked to him as though they might be coming home from the meetings of the bridge whist club at Mrs. Cleaver's or Mrs. Lakin's—were jamming and pushing and shoving to get a sight of the bride and groom and the wedding party as they came out of the church. Would they do that in Emporia? Well hardly. The Emporia way for those who are not invited to an important social affair
—we call such gatherings 'functions' in the Gazette—is either to stay at home and snit at it, and call each other up over the telephone—which always leaks—and laugh at the proud ones, or to give another party the same night. Never would Emporia women riot around a wedding to which they were not invited.
They would die first."

BLACKBURN GOES TO PANAMA.

He and His Family Will Reside There Most of the Time.

Washington, March 9.—The president and Secretary Taft have outlined the duties of the various members of the Isthmian canal commission, although the commission has not yet been reorganized.

Under the new plan, ex-Senator Blackburn, now a commissioner, will be the diplomatic overlord of the canal zone, having charge of all matters affecting the relations of the zone with the republic of Panama and other adjacent governments.

In addition to these duties, Mr. Blackburn is to represent the commission in Washington during the sessions of congress instead of Secretary Taft, before the various committees when information is desired on any subject affecting the canal on which legislation is proposed.

Mr. Blackburn and his family will leave Washington for Panama the latter part of March.

There had been a fatal railroad accident and the reporter sought information. "See here," said the official testily, "you fellows must think we have accidents for your benefit." "Perhaps you wouldn't mind telling me whose benefit you do have them for?" rejoined the reporter. But even touching this point the official was reticent.

OFF FOR INDIANA TO FIX UP FENCES

Vice President Fairbanks Facing Revolt at Home

Harry New, Governor Durbin and Crumpacker Numbered Among the Enemy.

ACTIVE WHILE HE WAS AWAY

Washington, March 9.—An explanation of Vice President Fairbanks' hurried departure for Indiana the moment congress adjourned is found in information received here today regarding the organized movement against Fairbanks in his own state, which is undertaking to select delegates to the Republican national convention next year who will leave Fairbanks after the first ballot and turn to a presidential candidate who is more in harmony with the Roosevelt administration.

This anti-Fairbanks organization has for its leaders such experienced politicians as former Governor W. T. Durbin, former Congressman Charles L. Henry, George F. McCullough, a well known traction magnate, and D. W. Henley, former internal revenue collector for the Terre Haute district.

In addition it has the hearty sympathy and will receive the co-operation of Representatives Crumpacker, Overstreet and perhaps another of the present members of the Indiana delegation in the house. It is well financed as it is stated that a fund of from $50,000 to $100,000 is available for the prospective fight.

Finds Insurgents Active.

Harry New, at present acting chairman of the Republican national committee, is no friend of Fairbanks. Vice-President Fairbanks received information concerning this insurgent movement several days before the close of congress, it is said, and he lost no time in getting home.

Ostensibly he left Washington so soon after adjournment in order that he might be in Indianapolis in time to give a reception to the members of the Indiana legislature, but Mr. Fairbanks was not half as anxious to extend the glad hand to the legislators as he was to get in touch with his lieutenants and start active operations to thwart the purposes of the hostile organization.

Former Governor Durbin was in Washington last month, and took occasion to let the country know that all Indiana Republicans were not as enthusiastic for Fairbanks as the latter and his friends would like to have the public imagine.

New Orleans, March 9.—New Orleans' first immigration station was formally opened today, an old Southern Pacific depot having been equipped for this purpose. The station contains quarters for 60 men and 30 women. It will be used until the $75,000 station authorized by congress can be built.

LOWER RATE.
Tennessee Proposes Two and One-Half Cent Fare.

Nashville, Tenn., March 9.—The railroad rate investigating committee of the legislature today completed the taking of evidence of officials of the four principal railroad systems operating in the state, and will begin at once on the work of preparing a report to the general assembly. So far the committee has not decided upon its recommendations to the legislature, but it seems probable that the members will reach a compromise agreement and recommend that the maximum railroad passenger rate in Tennessee be reduced to 2½ cents per mile.

The physic habit is more dangerous than dyspepsia

Most Physicists Leave You Weak

Dyspepsia often causes intense distress and pain, which is quickly relieved by a thorough physic, but unless the proper remedy is taken the patient is very apt to find himself a slave to the "Physic Habit."

This is caused by the severe shock which the drug gives to the intestinal muscles making them so weak they are unable to voluntarily perform their functions. The bowels cannot act of their own accord and so the physic which caused the trouble is taken again but in a larger dose in order to accomplish results. The need for such an artificial treatment becomes chronic and the size of the dose must be gradually increased. The patient at last becomes a confirmed victim of the "Physic Habit," and his strength and health rapidly leave him.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

does not act like other laxatives. Instead of weakening the intestinal muscles it so strengthens them that they can perform their functions unaided. It is a pleasant remedy to take, and rapidly strengthens all the muscles through its great tonic properties. In cases of dyspepsia it quickly relieves the pain and soon affects a permanent cure.

All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

Money back if it doesn't satisfy.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a flower which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. Few young women appreciate the shock of the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. More than a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mother, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and make its advent easy, and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve, nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Bad Symptoms. The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sea-sickness, imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as complete and correct.

In any condition of the female system Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of the "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Doctor's All Agree. The most eminent writers on Materia Medica, whose works are consulted as authorities by physicians of all the different schools of practice, extol, in the most positive terms, the curative virtues of each and every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In fact it is the only medicine, put up for sale through druggists for the cure of all diseases of the mucous surfaces, as nasal catarrh, throat, laryngeal, and bronchial affections attended by lingering, or hang-on-coughs that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

Do not expect too much from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will not work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. Nor is the "Discovery" so good for a sudden attack of acute cough, but for the lingering, obstinate, hang-on-coughs, accompanied by catarrhal, throat, laryngeal and bronchial affections. It is a most efficacious remedy. In cases accompanied with wasting of flesh, night-sweats, weak stomach and poor digestion with faulty assimilation, and which, if neglected or badly treated are apt to lead to consumption, the "Discovery" has proven wonderfully successful in effecting cures.

The formula is printed on every wrapper of "Golden Medical Discovery," attested as to correctness under oath, and you can't afford to accept any substitute of unknown composition for this now-seen remedy, no matter what selfish interests may prompt the dealer to urge such upon you. In fact it is an insult to your intelligence for him to do so. You know what you want and it is his place to supply that want.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They cleanse, invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels, curing biliousness and constipation. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dyspepsia

The stomach is in far greater danger from uric acid than any other organ; hence, dyspepsia is a most common ailment. Most people who suffer from its early symptoms foolishly neglect it. You will surely regret it if you neglect it.

Uric acid is always the cause. All through our stomach membrane, is a network of tiny blood vessels. When you eat heavy or improper foods these little blood vessels congest so that the blood stops flowing through them, and the uric acid—always in the blood—crystallizes in the congested veins, forming sharp little grains like sand. These constantly irritate the nerves, causing pains in the stomach. Artificial digestives, such as compounds of charcoal, pepsin, soda and like, will NEVER cure stomach trouble. You MUST clear the uric acid sand out of the blood vessels. This is the ONLY way. LIFE PLANT does this! LIFE PLANT is provided especially by Nature to wash out accumulated uric acid from every part of the body. Through this power LIFE PLANT will restore your stomach to perfect condition, so that it will be a joy for you to eat and live. Our files are full of unsolicited letters proving this. Read just one:

"I have been troubled with indigestion for years. Last year the joints of my right hand became much swollen and very painful with rheumatism. Life Plant was recommended, and after taking three bottles I have no more trouble with my stomach. The pain from rheumatism is gone and the joints almost in normal condition."

And it was with this conviction that he entered on the vital period of his dual career. The imminent crisis and his own share in it absorbed him absolutely. In the weeks that followed his answer to Fraide's proposal he gave himself ungrudgingly to his work. He wrote, read and planned with tireless energy. He frequently forgot to eat and slept only through sheer exhaustion. In the fullest sense of the word he lived for the culminating hour that was to bring him failure or success.

He seldom left Grosvener square in the days that followed except to confer with his party. All his interest, all his relaxation even, lay in his work and what pertained to it. His strength was like a solid wall, his intelligence was sharp and keen as steel. The moment was his, and by sheer mastery of will he put other considerations out of sight. He forgot Chilcote and forgot Lillian, not because they escaped his memory, but because he chose to shut them from it.

Of Eve he saw but little in this time of high pressure. When a man touches the core of his capacities, puts his best into the work that in his eyes stands paramount, there is little place for—and after. She inspires, compensates or completes; but the achievement, the creation, is man's alone. And all true women understand and yield to this unspoken precept.

Eve watched the progress of his labor, and in the depth of her own heart the watching came nearer to actual living than any activity she had known. She was an onlooker—but an onlooker who stood, as it were, on the steps of the arena, who, by a single forward movement, could feel the sand under her feet, the breath of the battle on her face, and in this knowledge she rested satisfied.

There were hours when Loder seemed scarcely conscious of her existence, but on those occasions she smiled in her serene way—and went on waiting. She knew that each day before the afternoon had passed he would come into his sitting room, his face thoughtful, his hands full of books or papers, and dropping into one of the comfortable, studious chairs, would ask laconically for tea. This was her moment of triumph and recompense—for the very unconsciousness of his coming doubled its value. He would sit for half an hour with preoccupied glance or with keen, alert eyes fixed on the fire, while his ideas sorted themselves and fell into line. Sometimes he was silent for the whole half hour, sometimes he commented to himself as he scanned his notes, but on other and rarer occasions he talked, speaking his thoughts and his theories aloud, with the enjoyment of a man who knows himself fully in his depth, while Eve slipped her tea or stretched peacefully at a strip of embroidery.

On these occasions she made a perfect listener. Here and there she encouraged him with an intelligent remark, but she never interrupted. She knew when to be silent and when to speak, when to merge her own individuality and when to make it felt. In these days of stress and preparation he came to her unconsciously for rest; he treated her as he might have treated a younger brother—relying on her discretion, turning to her as by right for sympathy, comprehension and friendship. Sometimes as they sat silent in the richly colored, homelike room Eve would pause over her embroidery and let her thoughts spin momentarily forward—toward the point where, the burst of his ordeal passed, he must of necessity seek something beyond mere rest. But there her thoughts would inevitably break off and the blood flame quickly in her cheek.

Meanwhile Loder worked persistently. With each day that brought the crisis of Fraide's scheme nearer his activity increased—and with it an intensifying of the nervous strain. For if he had his hours of exaltation he also had his hours of black apprehension. It is all very well to exorcise a ghost by sheer strength of will, but one has also to eliminate the idea that gave it existence. Lillian Astrupp, with her unattested evidence and her ephemeral interest, gave him no real uneasiness, but Chilcote and Chilcote's possible summons were matters of graver consideration, and there were times when they loomed very dark and sinister. What if at the very moment of fulfillment—but invariably he snapped the thread of the supposition and turned with fiercer ardor to his work of preparation.

And so the last morning of his probation dawned, and for the first time he breathed freely.

He rose early on the day that was to witness his great effort and dressed slowly. It was a splendid morning. The spirit of the spring seemed embodied in the air, in the pale blue sky, in the shafts of cool sunshine that danced from the mirror to the dressing table, from the dressing table to the pictures on the walls of Chilcote's vast room. Inconsequently with its dancing rose a memory of the distant past—a memory of long forgotten days when, as a child, he had been bidden to watch the same sun perform the same fantastic evolutions. The sight and the thought stirred him curiously, with an unlooked for sense of youth. He drew himself together with an added touch of decision as he passed out into the corridor, and as he walked downstairs he whistled a bar or two of an inspiriting time. In the morning room Eve was already waiting. She looked up, colored and smiled as he entered. Her face looked very fresh and young, and she wore a gown of the same pale blue that she had worn on his first coming.

She looked up from an open letter as he came into the room, and the sun that fell through the window caught her in a shaft of light, intensifying her blue eyes, her blue gown and the bunch of violets fastened in her belt. To Loder, still under the influence of early memories, she seemed the embodiment of some youthful ideal—something lost, sought for and found again. Realization of his feeling for her almost came to him as he stood there looking at her. It hovered about him, it tipped him, as it were, with its wings; then it rose again and soared away. Men like him—men keen to grasp an opening where their careers are concerned and tenacious to hold it when once grasped—are frequently the last to look into their own hearts. He glanced at Eve, he acknowledged the stir of his feeling, but he made no attempt to define its cause. He could no more have given reason for his sensations than he could have told the precise date upon which, coming downstairs at 8 o'clock, he had first found her waiting breakfast for him. The time when all such incidents were to stand out, each to a nicety in its appointed place, had not yet arrived. For the moment his youth had returned to him; he possessed the knowledge of work done, the sense of present companionship in a world of agreeable things; above all, the steady, quiet conviction of his own capacity. All these things came to him in the moment of his entering the room, greeting Eve and passing to the breakfast table; then, while his eyes still rested contentedly on the pleasant array of china and silver, while his senses were still alive to the fresh, earthy scent of Eve's violets, the blow's long dreaded—so slow in coming—fell with accumulated force.

"STAR-SPANGLED BANNER" IS STILL IN EXISTENCE.
New York, March 9.—Mrs. George Livingston Baker, of New Brighton, Staten Island, is authority for the statement that the star-spangled banner which flew over Fort McHenry during its bombardment, in the war of 1812, and inspired Francis Scott Key to the composition of the national ode, is now in this city.

Mrs. Baker is the granddaughter of Col. George Armstrong. The flag, she says, is the property of Eben Appleton, of this city, her brother, and has been deposited by him in the safe deposit vaults of a Broadway trust company.

There has been a great deal of inquiry regarding this flag recently, which was reported as probably lost. Mrs. Baker says that it is her brother's intention to leave the flag on his death to either one of the national museums at Washington or the Massachusetts Historical Museum at Boston.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

ing meeting on Thursday afternoon at the Parish House of Grace Episcopal church. It was decided to invite the State Federation of Woman's clubs to Paducah in June 1908. To accomplish it the delegation from the local club to the coming State meeting in June will be especially strong.

The open meeting of the club followed the business session and was under the auspices of the Art department. The delightful talks were illustrated by beautiful stereoscopic pictures, 42 in number. Miss Compton told of "The Saint and Angel in Art" and Miss Webb of "The Madonna in Art." Mrs. David Flournoy and Miss Julia Scott sang very charmingly.

Weddings.
A pretty wedding of the week, characterized by the charm of simplicity, was that of Miss Kate Lee Richardson to Mr. Oscar Bertram Jones, of San Bernardino, Cal., on Tuesday morning at the First Baptist church. The Rev. Calvin W. Thompson performed the ceremony. Miss Courtie Puryear played the wedding music. The only attendants were the ushers: Messrs. Frank Hecker, of St. Louis; Eugene B. Richardson, Paul E. Stutz, Durward Sutton W. W. Rogers, J. E. Rogers. The bride wore a pretty going-away suit of blue cloth and blue silk blouse with a blue cornflower hat and gloves to harmonize. Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding were: Miss Helene Carroll, of St. Louis; Miss Cora Bell Underwood, of Owensboro; Mrs. Joseph Altman, of Cairo; Mr. Frank H. Hecker, of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left at noon for San Bernardino, via St. Louis and Los Angeles. They have a host of friends in Paducah which was, also, Mr. Jones' former home.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Marcus, of Baltimore, Md., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Florence Hess, to Mr. Elbridge Palmer Bernheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Bernheim, of Louisville.

Mr. Bernheim is a native of Paducah, where his parents lived before going to make Louisville their home. He is a nephew of Mrs. Herman Walenstein and Mrs. Jacob Walenstein, of this city, and has often visited here. He is a namesake of the late Elbridge Palmer, of Paducah and is a young man of fine business and social qualifications.

ABOUT PEOPLE.
Miss Edith Smith of Hillsboro, Ohio, who has been the attractive guest of her sister, Mrs. David Cady Wright, for several months, left this week for her home. Miss Smith made many friends in Paducah.

Miss Helene Carroll, of St. Louis, and Miss Cora Belle Underwood of Owensboro are the attractive guests of Miss Cora Richardson of 320 South 3rd street. They are popular in Paducah where they have visited before.

Mrs. Victor Voris and little Miss Elsie Eunice Voris left this week for Dallas, Texas, to visit Mrs. Voris' mother, Mrs. J. H. Shelley. Mrs. Voris is always the recipient of much social attention in her girlhood home, although the Lenten season may make it very informal in character.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrell F. Buckner, of Dallas, Texas, are the guests of Mr. Buckner's mother, Mrs. James Buckner of Jefferson and Eighth streets. Mr. and Mrs. Buckner are here on route from New York where Mr. Buckner has been in the interest of an extensive copper mine in Mexico in which he is interested. They formerly lived in Paducah and are very popular here.

Miss Ethel Brooks left on Thursday for Indianapolis to attend a house party at the home of Miss Florence Schraeder. Miss Anita Wood of Wichita, Kan., who visited Miss Brooks with Miss Schraeder this winter is also of the party. Miss Schraeder gave a party-dance on Friday evening at her home in honor of her guests. Miss Wood and Miss Schraeder will accompany Miss Brooks home and will be her guests for Easter.

Removing the Blot.
A woman was trying to lift a big blot of ink from a letter with a piece of blotting paper, with the usual result of making the blot bigger, and uglier than it was at first. "Let me show you how to do that," said her friend. "I learned the trick at a stationer's shop in London last year. You just moisten the corner of the blotter first, to get it started, and then apply it to the ink spot. There! Isn't it wonderful how clean it takes it all up!"—New York Sun.

Making Hats is an Art Not a Craft; Milliner Incensed at Idea of Union

Chicago, March 9.—"Union" exclaimed Mme. Gruenberg, French milliner, one of the shining lights at the spring head foliage convention now in progress in drill hall, the Masonic Temple. "Unions for ze millinery ladies? Nevaire!"

Madame's tones were those of horror. The mention of the word "union" in connection with the business of manufacturing "creations" for the Easter parade was worse than sacrilege to her. It struck a blow at the very soul of high art.

"Why not unions? Because millinery is an art, a grand art! To make a hat is not like to lay a brick. It is not like to carry a hod. It is not like to drive a team. Let the artisans who labor with their hands alone have their unions, but allow the milliner to practice her art in freedom. When the walking delegate comes in the door beauty jumps down the elevator shaft."

Millions Indorse It.

All the millions who heard Mme. Gruenberg's protest against the organization of their craft applauded loudly, and informed one another that they would be content to draw the union scale of $20 per week when it was just as easy to put in a bill for $25 per "creation." The madam's remarks were impromptu, and not on the program, but they were the sensation of the evening, nevertheless.

Browns being the color of the season, Mme. Gruenberg has given to the world a new shade, wit ha novel name. It is "Coquederoach," and is said by experts to be the hue of the adolescent cockroach, or domestic water bug, familiar in the connoisseur of commerce. Other colors which the madame advocates are tan, champagne, drab, orange n doid gold.

There were very few men tolerated at the session, but an ultimatum was issued to them that to call a hat of female gender "a bonnet" is a gross error not allowed in polite society. Husbands and others mere males have been making a great mistake all these years when they groaned about paying "bonnet bills."

What a Bonnet Is.

"Bonnets are the floppy things that come down over the ears, shaped like coal shuttles," observed Miss Charlotte Trask, who is in command of the convention quarter deck, vice Mme. Ida Hunt, on sick leave. "They are rarely seen now except in the form of sun bonnets. I know a lady who explored State street from Van Buren to Randolph in search of a bonnet recently, and she could not buy anything but hats. There are nothing but hats nowadays. Bonnets are extinct."

The convention will come to an end today with the award of prizes for the best displays. The National Milliners' Association has offered several gold medals for the most artistic "creations."

While coming under the Johnsonville bridge yesterday, the Salttillio struck a pier and was injured to the extent of several hundred dollars. The wind caught the Salttillio throwing it against the pier. After attending to business here, the Salttillio left at noon for St. Louis.

The Harvester will rush repairs to get away as soon as possible for Pittsburg.

The .3 rise in the river in the last 24 hours was accomplished between 7 o'clock yesterday morning and 7 o'clock last night. In the last half of the 24 hours ending this morning, the river was on a stand and but for the rain today probably would have started falling. The stage this morning was 32.6. March 9 last year the stage was 25.5. Business at the wharf today is as good as it has been all week.

The Margaret is down in the Mississippi river assisting the Russell

Lord in saving the three barges of ties swamped there day before yesterday.

Tom Westbrook, who left the berth of second engineer on the Dick Fowler, left last night in the same position on the John S. Summers.

The John S. Summers laid up here for a few hours getting a double crew and left late last night for Nashville. The current in the Cumberland river is fierce and the Summers will have a hard pull.

"We get little thanks and no sleep for making these night trips, so we're going to come over in the day time hereafter," said Inspectors Green and St. John. Several times lately they have made night trips to accommodate boats. They arrived today from Nashville to inspect the Condor at the ways.

The Fannie Wallace will coal the towboat Eagle today. The Eagle will leave Sunday for St. Louis. Sunday the new Alton Eagle will be coaled and will get away for St. Louis Monday or Tuesday. The remaining Eagle packets will leave some time next week.

The Nashville Banner says: The river is falling more rapidly today and the steamboatmen think that it will be low enough by tomorrow for boats to pass through Lock A. The down-river steamboat traffic, which has been tied up for the past three or four days, will then be released.

On account of the water being at a certain stage that boats are unable to either come over the dam or to come through the lock, the steamers Richardson and Electra have been tied up at Lock A. for several days. Both boats made an effort to come over the dam and broke their captains in the trial. The steamboat lines and shippers have been very much inconvenienced by this delay in the down-river traffic.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will fall slowly tonight. At Paducah and Cairo, will continue rising slowly, probably becoming stationary Sunday.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, will continue falling during the next 24 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to slightly above Cairo, will continue falling.

The Wabash at Mt. Carmel, will continue rising during the next 24 hours.
